QUIET RITES HERALD CHRISTMAS

WHO'S HAPPIEST? — Santa Claus, 7-year-old Linda Dollison, and a doll all have a Merry Christmas look. It is really hard to tell which of them is happiest. Santa, because he can bring such a smile to a resident of the Pickaway County Children's Home; or Linda, because she got her heart's desire, a doll; or the doll, because it now has a wonderful 7-year-old mother. This is the spirit of Christmas.

Bus, Trucks Collide; 7 Persons Die

PULASKI, Tenn. (AP)—A Greyhound bus collided with two trucks while trying to pass on a wet, fog-shrouded hill at twilight Tuesday, killing seven persons and injuring 12.

Flames burst out in the bus minutes after it crashed to a halt in a gully seven miles south of here. A majority of the estimated 23 passengers scrambled out before the fire got to them.

Three of the dead were badly burned. The others apparently were thrown from the bus.

The bus driver, who last summer received an award for 15 years of safe driving, was among the dead. He was Samuel Youree, 50, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Twelve persons, including one of the truck drivers, were treated at a hospital. Six were released. One was sent to a Nashville hospital in critical condition.

Officers pieced together this account:

The 40-passenger bus, bound from Birmingham to Cincinnati, was passing a coal truck in the fog when a southbound semi-trailer truck loomed ahead.

The bus whipped back toward the right lane, hooked bumpers with the coal truck and then crashed almost head-on into the tractor-trailer.

Yule-Flavored News in Brief

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Wittenberg College professor says Santa Claus is nothing more than a "patron saint of merchants" and is detracting from the observance of Christ's birth at Christmas time.

Dr. J. Igor Bella, who teaches Old Testament theology at the college's Hanna Divinity School here, adds that because of this, Christmas is in danger of becoming a seasonal holiday in the United States instead of a holy day. He told newsmen during an interview that not enough emphasis is placed upon the primary meaning of Christmas, "the miracle that occurred when God touched the world through the birth of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Bella, ousted from communist Czechoslovakia in 1949 as a "person dangerous to the peace and public," said communists today are purposely placing emphasis on Santa Claus. In this way, he said, they detract from the observance of Christ's birth.

GLENDIVIE, Mont. (AP)—The unidentified man said his conscience bothered him. He appeared at two Glendivie stores just before Christmas to pay them for goods he shoplifted two years ago. One store got $33, the other $10.

Wolford Home Wins Yuletide Light Contest

The Roliff Wolford residence on the Lancaster Pike was last night awarded first prize in the Circleville Home Christmas Decoration contest.

Second prize went to F. D. O'Hara, 906 Circle Drive, followed by Doyle R. Painter, 1010 Lynwood Ave., in third place. Fourth place was awarded to Frank Moss, Logan St.

First prize was worth $25 and a General Electric clock radio, donated by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. Second prize was valued at $20, third, $15 and $10 for fourth. Consolation winners receiving $5 each were Robert W. Hutzelm, 612 Guilford Road; Bernard R. Porter, 567 N. Pickaway St.

ARNOLD MOATS, 1225 S. Court St.; Joseph C. Moats, Northridge Road; Charles L. Thompson, 122 Collins Court, and Misses Marjha and Eleanor Reid, corner of Pickaway and Watt Sts. Hadfield said the judging wasn't completed until 11:30 p. m. last night due to the many homes to judge. He stated this is the largest home decoration contest to date.

Due to the fact that judging was later than anticipated, many decorated homes had turned off their lights and thereby failed to qualify.

Thieves Blow Loot In Bang-Up Binge

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Police here are seeking extravagant thieves who squandered their loot in one reckless binge.

The thieves broke into Lyndell Tiner's stand north of Pine Bluff on U.S. 65 Monday night. They blew their loot away Tuesday.

Deputies found the evidence beside a road south of town: A scorched area 15 feet square and various litter—all that remained of $400 worth of firecrackers.

Snow Flurries Slated Only for Northern Sections of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

White Christmas? Not much chance for Ohioans except in the northern part of the state. Unless current weather-making apparatus is changed, nearly all of Ohio's weather Christmas Day will be drab, chilly and maybe rainy. Some snow flurries are expected in the northern part of the state. For the next five days, here is the forecast:

Temperatures will average three to five degrees below normal. Normal high 35 north, 41 south. Normal low 21-24. A little warmer south Thursday and colder most of area Friday and Saturday, becoming a little warmer about Monday. Precipitation will average near one-tenth of an inch in scattered snow flurries north Thursday and Friday and in a little rain or snow most of state about Monday.

And here are specific forecasts for areas adjoining Ohio as well as for specified areas within the state:

KENTUCKY — Partly cloudy west, mostly cloudy east today with some drizzle in southeast this morning. A little colder most sections today. Fair and a little colder tonight. Thursday partly cloudy and a little warmer. Chance of a little rain late Thursday. High today mostly in 40s, low tonight mostly in 20s.

WEST VIRGINIA — Cloudy and turning colder with some light rain south this morning and a few snow flurries likely north later this afternoon. Mostly cloudy and colder with a few snowy flurries tonight. Low tonight 16-22 east, 20-25 west Thursday considerable cloudiness and cold.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA — Cloudy and colder today, tonight and Thursday with a few light snow flurries today and tonight in north Thursday. High today 26 north, 38 south. Low tonight in teens. High Thursday mostly in 20s.

CENTRAL OHIO — Mostly cloudy and a little colder today and tonight. High today 38, low tonight 25. Thursday partly cloudy and a little colder today, high 36.

SOUTH CENTRAL OHIO — Mostly cloudy and a little colder today, high 37-40. Partly cloudy and colder tonight, low 24-28. Thursday partly cloudy with little change in temperature, high 38-42.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Cloudy and colder with a few light snow flurries today and tonight. High today 30-34, low tonight 22 - 26. Thursday mostly cloudy with little temperature change.

NORTHEAST OHIO — Occasional freezing drizzle with hazardous driving conditions; cloudy and colder with light snow flurries today and tonight. High today 35, low tonight 24-28. Thursday cloudy with little temperature change.

Patrol's Warrant Rights Limited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State highway patrolmen have no authority to serve a warrant for a traffic violation if the warrant is based on an affidavit by someone other than a patrol member, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today.

Col. Fred Moritz, superintendent of the patrol, requested the decision. He said cases have come up several times where school bus drivers serve violations then swear out affidavits and request the patrol to serve the warrants.

Saxbe said the patrol does not have general authority to enforce state laws, and that the general law on warrants for arrest does not apply to highway patrolmen.

'Yes, Virginia' Tale Recalled

Reluctant Newsman Writes Now Famed Yule Editorial

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis P. Church obviously was annoyed when given the assignment.

"He bristled and pooh-poohed at the subject," his employer recalled in later years.

Finally, however, Church went to his desk — "with an air of resignation" — and set to work. Church was an editorial writer for the New York Sun, since merged with the New York World-Telegram and Sun. It was in September 1897.

Even though Christmas still was a considerable time away, a little girl of 8 had been thinking about it. And a great big question had popped into her mind.

She put the question to her father who suggested she write the Sun. It was her letter that was handed to Church with the request that he prepare a reply which could be published in the newspaper.

Church pondered the matter, then began to write.

How well he wrote he perhaps did not realize at the time — but in the years before his death in 1906 he came to know full well, indeed. It became a classic expression of Christmas sentiment.

The little girl to whom Church addressed his message still is living. She now is Mrs. Laura Virginia Douglas, a New York school principal and a widow with children and grandchildren of her own. She is 69.

EDITORIAL

It is the mental bent of some to think of Christmas as having lost its meaning, that man by his inventions and materialistic concepts has somehow smothered with tinsel the eternal verities of which the herald angels sang.

But Christmas is enduring. It is that reach for ideals, beyond man's instant grasp, by which the human race inches upward toward Heaven. And on Christmas Eve it is good to remember that the tidings of great joy were to all people. It is well to have faith that the promise of peace will be redeemed when all men, like the shepherds, can see and hear the heavenly choir and in simplicity of heart hasten to the manger where the young Child lies.

The world is better than it was when Jesus was born. Then every subjected person was a slave, ground down by toil, taxes and the lash. Babies were in danger of slaughter if the tyrant thought a rival king had been born. Justice and mercy were the exceptions, not the rule.

Jesus, the Son of God, brought a new concept, dramatized by His later life on earth. For 2000 years this concept has been encouraging men to promote justice, to love mercy and to resist the cruelties of their rulers.

It may be said that in many lands today there are injustices similar to those of the Judea of the original Christmas. But there is this vital difference: The mighty leaven of the Christian ethic — the love of justice and mercy, the rights of others, the dignity of man — has become so thoroughly implanted that most modern despots have fallen before outraged public opinion.

Christmas abides because it impels men toward higher ground, discarding their errors and woes as they climb. No tinsel can ever obscure the beautiful Christmas message which bids man seek his destiny in the upper reaches of the spirit.

Church Services Recall Event In Bethlehem

Prince of Peace To Receive Tribute On Eve of Birthday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Religious services in Christian communities throughout the world today quietly commemorated the eve of the day almost two thousand years ago when the Prince of Peace was born in Bethlehem.

Thousands of pilgrims gathered in Bethlehem to offer prayers for peace in a world which lives in the shadow of war. Many millions more made the short pilgrimage to their community centers of worship for Christmas Eve services.

The theme of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" was repeated in thousands of churches.

President Eisenhower said the theme of the Christmas story contained an ideal of all men, regardless of their beliefs. The United States will work toward that ideal, the President said in Washington just before lighting the national Christmas tree in the park behind the White House.

For many in the United States it was a day of irritation.

New Yorkers were still without their newspapers as a two-week-old strike of deliverymen continued. Thousands of travelers competed for plane space made scarce by two airline strikes. Many switched to crowded trains or buses. Many more couldn't get home for the annual reunion.

In Bethlehem, the schedule of Christmas Eve ran from noon through midnight services.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 foreign tourists crowded into the bleak little hilltop town 12 miles south of Jerusalem where Christ was born.

Another 1,737 Christians from Israel, mostly Arabs, received Israeli permission to cross the Palestine war truce line in Jerusalem to attend the Bethlehem services. About 200 foreign diplomats, clergymen and others from Israel also were given permission to visit shrines across the line in Jordan.

Peaceful conditions in the Holy Land which swelled the pilgrimages were reflected in the Gaza Strip between Israel and Egypt.

Non-Christians from India took over most of the guard duty along that border while United Nations Emergency Force troops from Western nations enjoyed the religious holidays.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the UNEF commander, Canadian Gen. E. L. M. Burns, joined the troops at Gaza who were decorating 90 imported Christmas trees.

In Baghdad, Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem pushed back the beginning of curfew until 1 a. m. to permit Christians to attend midnight services on Christmas Eve.

Christmas brought no relaxation of tension in Germany, where the Christmas tree originated and 17 million were expected to be lighted this year. Residents of West Berlin prepared to celebrate the holiday but wondered if this would be their last free Christmas because of Soviet efforts to force the Western allies out of the city 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

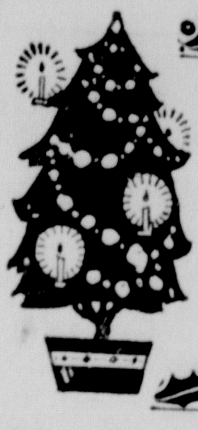

The people of Russia's European satellites went to church as the West did, but in the Soviet

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

"Dear Editor:

I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says 'if you see it in the Sun it's so.'

Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon, 115 West 95th Street."

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might as well not hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a viel covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Bus, Trucks Collide; 7 Persons Die

PULASKI, Tenn. (AP)—A Greyhound bus collided with two trucks while trying to pass on a wet, fog-shrouded hill at twilight Tuesday, killing seven persons and injuring 12.

Flames burst out in the bus minutes after it crashed to a halt in a gully seven miles south of here. A majority of the estimated 23 passengers scrambled out before the fire got to them.

Three of the dead were badly burned. The others apparently were thrown from the bus.

The bus driver, who last summer received an award for 15 years of safe driving, was among the dead. He was Samuel Youree, 50, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Twelve persons, including one of the truck drivers, were treated at a hospital. Six were released. One was sent to a Nashville hospital in critical condition.

Officers pieced together this account:

The 40-passenger bus, bound from Birmingham to Cincinnati, was passing a coal truck in the fog when a southbound semi-trailer truck loomed ahead.

The bus whipped back toward the right lane, hooked bumpers with the coal truck and then crashed almost headon into the tractor-trailer.

Yule-Flavored News in Brief

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Wittenberg College professor says Santa Claus is nothing more than a "patron saint of merchants" and is detracting from the observance of Christ's birth at Christmas time.

Dr. J. Igor Bella, who teaches Old Testament theology at the college's Hama Divinity School here, adds that because of this, Christmas is in danger of becoming a seasonal holiday in the United States instead of a holy day.

He told newsmen during an interview that not enough emphasis is placed upon the primary meaning of Christmas, "the miracle that occurred when God touched the world through the birth of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Bella, ousted from communist Czechoslovakia in 1949 as a "person dangerous to the peace and public," said communists today are purposely placing emphasis on Santa Claus. In this way, he said, they detract from the observance of Christ's birth.

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP)—The unidentified man said his conscience bothered him. He appeared at two Glendive stores just before Christmas to pay them for goods he shoplifted two years ago. One store got $33, the other $10.

Wolford Home Wins Yuletide Light Contest

The Roloff Wolford residence on the Lancaster Pike was last night awarded first prize in the Circleville Home Christmas Decoration contest.

Second prize went to F. D. O'Hara, 906 Circle Drive, followed by Doyle R. Painter, 1010 Lynwood Ave., in third place. Fourth place was awarded to Frank Moss, Logan St.

First prize was worth $25 and a General Electric clock radio, donated by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Second prize was valued at $20, third, $15 and $10 for fourth. Consolation winners receiving $5 each were Robert W. Hutzelman, 612 Guilford Road; Bernard R. Porter, 567 N. Pickaway St.;

ARNOLD MOATS, 1225 S. Court St.; Joseph C. Moats, Northridge Road; Charles L. Thompson, 122 Collins Court, and Misses Martha and Eleanor Reid, corner of Pickaway and Watt Sts.

Hafield said the judging wasn't completed until 11:30 p. m. last night due to the many homes to judge. He stated this is the largest home decoration contest to date.

Due to the fact that judging was later than anticipated, many decorated homes had turned off their lights and thereby failed to qualify.

Thieves Blow Loot In Bang-Up Binge

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Police here are seeking extravagant thieves who squandered their loot in one reckless binge.

The thieves broke into Lyndell Tiner's stand north of Pine Bluff on U.S. 65 Monday night. They blew their loot away Tuesday.

Deputies found the evidence beside a road south of town: A scorched area 15 feet square and various litter—all that remained of $400 worth of firecrackers.

Pope Holds Audience

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII received subjects of the tiny Vatican state in special Christmas audience today and urged them to live exemplary lives. About 1,000 attended.

Cop Gives Ticket, Then Helps Pay It

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It cost Columbus patrolman John Jett 34 cents to hand out a traffic citation Tuesday night.

The officer cited Chester R. Swett Jr., 19, of Rt. 3, Lancaster, for making an illegal left turn. Since he was an out-of-town violator, Swett had to pay his $10 ticket or be kept in city prison. But when he and his girl friend pooled their money, they had only $9.66.

Jett then kicked in 34 cents toward the fine so Swett could take his girl friend home.

Red Chinese Chiefs Create 'Mass Mind'

HONG KONG (AP)—An Indian social scientist who toured Communist China says everyone there speaks with one voice.

"It's shocking, this creation of a mass mind," he said. "There seems to be no individuality left."

Dr. S. Chandrasekhar, director of the Indian Institute for Population Studies, spent six weeks surveying population problems of Red China.

Everywhere he went, he said, he heard the same words and phrases over and over. Mass conditioning ranged over every field of human endeavor, from personal hygiene to anti-American propaganda.

Children stood on corners bellowing through megaphones: "Kill flies, kill sparrows, kill rats."

Public address systems in factories, homes, restaurants and trains dinned into the people's ears:

"Taiwan must be liberated from the American imperialists."

Chandrasekhar said: "Communist officials consider their creation of a mass mind one of their proudest achievements, a proof of national solidarity."

"I kept telling them they've destroyed intellectuals, but they kept telling me that to the contrary they have made everybody intellectual."

16 Mushroom Farmers Missing

ZICHEM ZUSSEN BOLDER, Belgium (AP) — At least 16 mushroom farmers were still entombed today after a giant rock collapse in a nine-acre maze of tunnels near this village in north-east Belgium.

Three persons were known dead. One rescue worker said there was virtually no hope of saving those still trapped underground. But hundreds of weary, grimy men continued to claw their way through the tons of clay, earth and rock that came crashing down on the underground mushroom beds Tuesday.

$7,331 Spent On Elections

A total of $7,331.29 was spent on the November 4 election by candidates and committees filing with the Pickaway County Board of Elections, it was today reported by the board's clerk.

Candidates spent $4,549.92 and received $302 toward their campaigns. Committees spent $2,781.37 toward the campaign, receiving $3,286.81.

The committees' balance, which is found in the treasuries of the two political parties, will be used to further its activity in the political field and to hold meetings.

The first candidate to file was Ray W. Davis, successful candidate for County Prosecutor. He had no expenses. The last candidate to file was William J. Green, unsuccessful for the county's representation in the Ohio General Assembly.

The last committee to file was the County Republican Party with expenses of $542.14 and receipts of $571.82.

160 Countians Have Failed To File Korean Bonus Claims

Approximately 160 Pickaway County Korean veterans have failed to file bonus claims, it was announced today by County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea.

The Ohio Korean Conflict Compensation Fund office estimated 767 Pickaway County veterans were eligible to receive the Korean bonus passed by the Ohio Legislature.

Of this estimated total, approximately 600 veterans have filed claims with the local Veterans Service office and nearly 575 have received their bonuses.

The deadline for filing has been set at midnight December 31. Apparently an estimated 12,000 Ohio Korean veterans will fail to file before the deadline, it was recently stated by Ohio Fund Director, C. W. Goble.

GOBLE reported claims now are being received at an average rate of 67 a day. Total checks mailed through November 28 was 225,446 for $57,962,343.92.

Of the total $57,962,343.92 paid, Director Goble said $28,061,998.01 went to veterans of the Army, $16,374,645.18 Navy, $13,525,700.73 Air Force, and $999,389.64 to next-of-kin.

The 4213 checks sent to next-of-kin were to settle 2933 claims. Some 236,000 claims have been filed to date. Original estimates of about 250,000 possible eligible claims were used early last year when plans were being made to pay the Korean bonus.

An eligible applicant must have been a resident of the State of Ohio on the first day of his active duty within the compensable period, June 25, 1950 to July 19, 1953, and for one year prior to such first day of active duty.

Regular claims filed through November 28 are included in the above payment figures. Those still unpaid are being examined further to resolve legal questions of eligibility, Director Goble explained.

Union Dec. 24 was just another day. Those whose faith has survived the Communist government's long campaign against religion schedule their holidays by the old Russian calendar and Christmas for them comes Jan. 7.

Westerners in Moscow planned Christmas parties and observances at their embassies. Leaders of the Protestant and Roman Catholic churches from the United States were aboard to visit some of the thousands of American servicemen on foreign soil.

Nearly 5,000 U.S. servicemen spent Christmas Eve in Hong Kong, where ships of the 7th Fleet were anchored. More thousands decorated trees in Formosa, Okinawa, Japan and South Korea.

The guns were silent around the Quemoy Islands off the coast of Red China, one of the world's few sites of a shooting war. But the silence was in accordance with the Communist policy of not shelling the Quemoy on even days of the month. The Chinese Nationalist commander in chief ordered his troops not to fire back on Christmas Day, but there was no indication that the Reds also would observe a truce on an odd-numbered day.

Ramey Dismisses $10,000 Suit

A suit filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court recently by George R. Ramey, 807 S. Scioto St., against the Smith Brothers Hardware Co., Columbus, demanding $10,000 was dismissed yesterday.

The damage suit arose when Ramey claimed he suffered serious injury due to a defective shotgun sold by a retail outlet of Smith's Hardware.

The dismissal was agreed upon by both parties when Ramey filed a similar suit against the manufacturers of the weapon.

$20,000 Damage Suit Dismissed

A $20,000 damage suit filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court by Patricia Thomas, Lancaster, against William Eugene Vincent, Chillicothe, was dismissed yesterday.

Mrs. Thomas filed the suit as a result of an auto accident occurring on Nov. 3, 1957 in which Vincent reportedly crashed into the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Thomas's husband and in which she was a passenger.

Mrs. Thomas claimed she suffered serious injuries, some of which were permanent. The suit was settled out of court.

Cafe's Hot Rolls End Up Getting Unusual Kneading

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — William Nickels arrived at his restaurant with 300 hot rolls. His key wouldn't open the front door.

Leaving the crate of rolls on the sidewalk, he went to the back and broke a window. This got him into the bathroom, but the bathroom door was locked.

He smashed it, entered the dining room and tried to open the front door from the inside. It still wouldn't budge.

So he forced it and found — the crate of 300 rolls missing from the sidewalk.

The rolls had been picked up by and mangled in a city garbage truck.

Ramey Dismisses $10,000 Suit

A suit filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court recently by George R. Ramey, 807 S. Scioto St., against the Smith Brothers Hardware Co., Columbus, demanding $10,000 was dismissed yesterday.

The damage suit arose when Ramey claimed he suffered serious injury due to a defective shotgun sold by a retail outlet of Smith's Hardware.

The dismissal was agreed upon by both parties when Ramey filed a similar suit against the manufacturers of the weapon.

$20,000 Damage Suit Dismissed

A $20,000 damage suit filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court by Patricia Thomas, Lancaster, against William Eugene Vincent, Chillicothe, was dismissed yesterday.

Mrs. Thomas filed the suit as a result of an auto accident occurring on Nov. 3, 1957 in which Vincent reportedly crashed into the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Thomas's husband and in which she was a passenger.

Mrs. Thomas claimed she suffered serious injuries, some of which were permanent. The suit was settled out of court.

Cafe's Hot Rolls End Up Getting Unusual Kneading

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — William Nickels arrived at his restaurant with 300 hot rolls. His key wouldn't open the front door.

Leaving the crate of rolls on the sidewalk, he went to the back and broke a window. This got him into the bathroom, but the bathroom door was locked.

He smashed it, entered the dining room and tried to open the front door from the inside. It still wouldn't budge.

So he forced it and found — the crate of 300 rolls missing from the sidewalk.

The rolls had been picked up by and mangled in a city garbage truck.

Ike's Balanced Budget Brings Cheers, Doubts

U.S. Businessmen Eye Prospect, Its Effect On Nation's Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower's proposal of a balanced budget next year cheers businessmen. But the cheers are mixed with doubts as to its attainment.

The President's 77-billion-dollar budget is based on two hopes:

1. That Congress won't spend more than he asks and will raise postal rates and the gasoline tax as he wants.

2. That the business recovery will proceed faster so tax collections on individual incomes and corporate earnings will furnish the 77 billion dollars he needs to avoid the deficit.

The federal budget is always eagerly awaited by business because it indicates what may happen along several lines:

1. Whether taxes will go up or down, and what taxes are involved.

2. How much the government proposes to spend, and just what industries will have a chance to get part of that money and how much.

3. And whether another federal deficit is in the making to add still further to the inflationary pressures that in the past have eroded the purchasing power of the dollar.

Many businessmen, like many congressmen, doubt that the new Congress will be in the mood to cut back government spending.

And some industries hope that the cuts won't be made in spending for their products.

A higher postal rate will cost everyone money. A higher gasoline tax will effect most businesses as well as individuals — and won't please the oil industry. Many businessmen doubt if Congress will vote either.

To increase revenues as the President's budget estimates would mean a rise in personal income taxes next year of about 7 billion dollars and a gain in corporate earnings of from 12 to 14 billion dollars.

The present pace of the recovery would have to be stepped up if these goals are met, according to many economists.

But none quarrels with the ideal of the balanced budget.

Although handled as expertly as possible, the financing of this year's 12-billion federal deficit economists hold.

This won't show up in the cost of living as quickly as that other factor, the wage-price spiral, but it will be felt in time.

If the President's goal is met, if the budget is balanced at a lower figure than first expected, that would mean:

A very Merry Christmas to you all.

City Pays Bonuses Despite Deficit

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Forty employees of the Bowling Green Board of Public Affairs have received a cash Christmas bonus of $50 each even though the city is in a serious financial state, it was disclosed today.

Leroy Monroe, a member of the board, which operates the water and power systems, said the bonus was paid under an ordinance approved by council two years ago.

Mayor Clarence Dick said he was at a loss for an explanation. F. G. Skibbie, council finance chairman, said he was unaware of the board's action. And Elton Ebright, chairman of the utility committee, said he knew about the payment but had no other comment.

Bowling Green is anticipating a deficit of $21,500 by Dec. 31.

British Poetry Book Is Booming

LONDON (AP) — The fastest selling thing in British bookshops just now is a book of poems.

"John Betjeman's collected poems," the work of a versatile author and television personality, is selling at the phenomenal rate of about 1,000 copies daily.

"It's an absolute mystery," the 52-year-old writer exclaims.

His publisher says there's been nothing like the instantaneous success—the book has only been out three weeks — since publication of Lord Byron's "Child Harold."

Dream House Not Shattered

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been planning our "Dream House" for over six years. I showed our plans to my sister-in-law (my husband's sister) and they broke ground before we did, and do you know that woman stole my floor plan! I didn't realize what was happening until I went over there and looked around. When the realization hit me I had to have the doctor for my nerves. My husband says we will have to change our plans now because we don't want it said that we copied them. THEY copied US! I say we should go ahead and use our plans anyway. What would you do?

COPIED
DEAR COPIED: Imitation is the most sincere form of flattery. If I were you, I'd go right ahead and build my house, as planned.

DEAR ABBY: I have three boys. They are 3, 2 and six months old. The three-year-old teases the two-year-old and makes him scream. This goes on from dawn till dusk and drives me crazy. I am busy enough taking care of the baby and every time I hear that scream I have to run to them to see who's getting murdered. For a while I punished the older one, figuring it was his fault, but I found the younger one screaming over nothing. I can't be with them every minute. Can anybody tell me what to do?

GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: Simple: Keep the boys in separate rooms. If they get lonesome, put them back together again. If there is any screaming, separate them again to teach them that if they want to be together, they'd better behave.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter told me that her boyfriend is going to give her a ring at Easter time. They've gone together for three years, off and on. They broke up several times, but have always gotten back together again. Some of our relatives are coming to visit around the first of the year. I would like to give a sort of "pre-engagement" party for the couple but don't know if it would be proper since she doesn't have her ring yet. Have you any suggestions?

HAPPY MOTHER
DEAR HAPPY: Don't count your chickens before they're hatched!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl and would like to know something. When a boy asks a girl to dance and she dances with him and it comes time to sit her down, is it the boy's place to say "THANK YOU" to the girl, or is it the girl's place to say "THANK YOU" to the boy? If the boy says "THANK YOU" to the girl, what should the girl say to him, if anything?

JUDY
DEAR JUDY: After the boy has danced with the girl, she should say "THANK you." And then he should say to her, "Thank You!"

Young Opposes Judgeship for Gov. O'Neill

'Not Worthy,' Claims Senator-Elect of Defeated Ohio Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Senator-elect Stephen Young says he will block Senate confirmation of Gov. C. William O'Neill if the departing Ohio chief executive is nominated by President Eisenhower for a federal judgeship.

"O'Neill is not an able lawyer in my judgment," Young told a news conference. "He is not worthy to be a judge until he has acquired the necessary experience."

Young said the fact that O'Neill, who failed to win reelection last November, is a Republican has nothing to do with his opposition.

In Columbus, Gov. O'Neill said he had no comment.

He would be willing, Young said, to vote for such men as Don Hornbeck of Cleveland, U.S. District Judge Lester Cecil Dayton or retiring Sen. John Bricker, a Republican whom Young defeated in the November election, if any of them should be nominated to fill a vacancy in the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals for which O'Neill's name also has been mentioned.

This federal circuit embraces Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee.

A reporter told Young there have been reports that former Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, an Ohioan, is backing O'Neill for the court of appeals nomination and asked what Young thought of this.

"I would be amazed if he is nominated," Young said. "I would do my utmost to prevent his confirmation. Such an appointment to the court of appeals would be an affront to the people of Ohio and personally obnoxious to me. If he is nominated I will personally prevent his confirmation—I know how to do it."

It is an unwritten rule in the Senate to refuse confirmation of a nominee from a state if one of its senators says the nominee is personally obnoxious to him.

Another reporter asked whether Young might change his mind if Ohio bar associations endorse O'Neill.

"He wouldn't get a passing grade from any bar association," Young replied.

The senator-elect said he is not asking for appointment to any special senate committees. He added he would refuse to serve on the District of Columbia Committee.

"The people of Ohio did not elect me to serve as a county commissioner for the District of Columbia," Young said.

The senator-elect said he wants to know more about President Eisenhower's balanced budget plans before discussing them.

He also said he wants to see a congressional program enacted that will "restore the United States to leadership of the free world."

Radio, TV Plan Detailed Reviews of News of 1958

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS News certainly isn't taking the new year lying down.

The network will offer five special year-end programs this coming Sunday and a Sunday later, Jan. 4. The lineup — all times EST:

This Sunday (Dec. 28): At 2:30 p.m. "The Year Gone By" offers a two-hour assessment of America's arts, sciences and humanities during 1958 by authorities in their fields. At 4:30 p.m. "The Face of Red China," a filmed hour-long report of what is happening inside Red China — the first of its kind to appear on American television. At 10 p.m. their 10th annual analysis of world conditions in "Years of Crisis."

The following Sunday, Jan. 4:

at 3 p.m. "The Big News of '58," an hour review of the significant news developments of the past year. At 4 p.m. there will be the second annual report on "Where We Stand" in relation to Russia in the areas of arms, economics and education.

The CBS view of "The Face of Red China" consists of films shot inside China during the past several months by a German photographer, Rolf Gillhausen of Hamburg. The narration will be by Gerald Clark, London-based correspondent for the Montreal Star who recently concluded a long tour through Communist China.

John Day, Director of News for CBS News, confessed the other day that it appeared his network had been beaten in obtaining the first films from inside China after NBC-TV outbid for color movies made there by an American, John Strong — which NBC-TV will show Jan. 4 (at 4:30 p.m.) under present plans.

Day alerted network correspondents to continue the quest for films of China, however, and the new footage by Gillhausen was discovered.

Three of the year-end programs also will be heard on CBS radio. The programs and the times are "Big News of '58," Sunday at 3:05 p.m., "Years of Crisis" next Monday at 8 p.m., and "Where We Stand" a week from Sunday at 9:05 p.m.

Chiang May Shun Third Term Race

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek hinted today he may not seek a third term as president of Nationalist China in 1960.

The 72-year-old generalissimo said he opposes proposals for amending the constitution, which some consider necessary for him to run again.

Article 47 of the constitution says: "The term of office of the president and of the vice president shall be six years. They may be elected for a second term."

Some contend this means a second term and no more, but others argue that the number of terms is unlimited. Chiang's second term expires May 19, 1960.

New Democrat Clerks To Get Thankless Task

Assigning Statehouse Parking Places Is Treated as Ritual

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Free parking in the statehouse lot is the most cherished perk of Ohio legislators.

You can take the word of veteran Senate Clerk Thomas E. Bateman for that. Bateman and House Clerk Carl Guess have wrestled with the problem of assigning parking places in the overcrowded lots, during recent sessions.

They are turning that thankless task over to clerks of the incoming Democratic-controlled legislature on Jan. 5. The new clerks will be Joseph W. Bartunek of Cleveland in the senate and Arthur H. Milleson of Freeport in the house.

"Next to their salaries, they prize that free parking more than anything else," Bateman said of the law-makers. "The pressure gets hot and heavy at times. The new clerks are welcome to that headache," he mused.

Free parking is only one of the perquisites accruing to members of the General Assembly, who draw $5,000 a year in salaries.

They have virtually unlimited use of local and long-distance telephones for state business and all of their considerable correspondence is mailed out for them at state expense.

Each of the 139 members of the next house and 33 senate members will find 1,000 sheets of paper and envelopes at his desk on arrival. That supply will be replenished any time during the session.

Each lawmaker can call on a secretary to take his dictation and write his letters. Each house maintains a secretarial pool for that purpose.

But majority and minority leaders of each house have their own secretaries for their private offices. So do the chairman of finance committees in each house.

The speaker of the house and the senate majority floor leader each draw an extra $2,500-a-year in salary for a total of $7,500. The new speaker is Rep. James A. Lantz of Lancaster. The new senate Democratic floor leader is Sen. Frank W. King of Toledo.

House Speaker Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine and Senate Republican Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Athens of past legislatures will be minority leaders in the new session and take $2,500 cuts in pay.

Legislators receive $600 a month while in session. The balance of their pay is pro-rated during the rest of their terms. All House members serve for two years. Half the senators in the coming session were elected for two-year terms and the rest for four years. Starting in 1960, most state senate terms will be for four years.

All legislators are allowed 10 cents a mile for transportation each week between their homes and the statehouse by the most direct route during sessions. Lawmakers living in Columbus don't even receive bus fare.

New members also receive a free copy of Ohio's code of laws. Re-elected members get supplements to bring their codes up to date. Members also receive daily copies of house and senate journals, detailing their work while the session lasts.

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS News certainly isn't taking the new year lying down.

The network will offer five special year-end programs this coming Sunday and a Sunday later, Jan. 4. The lineup — all times EST:

This Sunday (Dec. 28): at 2:30 p.m. "The Year Gone By" offers a two-hour assessment of America's arts, sciences and humanities during 1958 by authorities in their fields. At 4:30 p.m. "The Face of Red China," a filmed hour-long report of what is happening inside Red China — the first of its kind to appear on American television. At 10 p.m. their 10th annual analysis of world conditions in "Years of Crisis."

The following Sunday, Jan. 4:

Capitol Hill Aides Scramble for Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — To the job-hungry on Capitol Hill, Lacey C. Sharp looks a lot like Santa Claus.

Sharp is head of a group set up to help find new jobs for congressional aides whose Senate and House employers were defeated in the November elections.

The Democratic sweep sent about 650 secretaries and stenographers scrambling for new bosses among the incoming members.

Competition is keen for the Capitol jobs. They pay from $4,200 to $13,300 for full time work, with top Senate jobs paying a few hundred dollars more than in the House.

Sharp, chairman of the Congressional Secretaries Club Placement Committee, said about two-thirds of those displaced by the November elections have found new jobs.

DeGaulle Hinted Eyeing U.S. Visit

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle has begun plans for a trip to the United States early next year, sources in a position to know said today. The U.S. government has invited him twice to make a state visit to Washington.

De Gaulle's press spokesman insisted that no decision has definitely been taken. But he said De Gaulle wants to go to Washington and confirmed that plans are being made with this in view.

No formal announcement can be expected until De Gaulle's new status as president of the Fifth Republic becomes official.

The Inca Indians in Peru spun and wove cotton more than a thousand years ago.

at 3 p.m. "The Big News of '58," an hour review of the significant news developments of the past year. At 4 p.m. there will be the second annual report on "Where We Stand" in relation to Russia in the areas of arms, economics and education.

The CBS view of "The Face of Red China" consists of films shot inside China during the past several months by a German photographer, Rolf Gillhausen of Hamburg. The narration will be by Gerald Clark, London-based correspondent for the Montreal Star who recently concluded a long tour through Communist China.

John Day, Director of News for CBS News, confessed the other day that it appeared his network had been beaten in obtaining the first films from inside China after NBC-TV outbid for color movies made there by an American, John Strong — which NBC-TV will show Jan. 4 (at 4:30 p.m.) under present plans.

Day alerted network correspondents to continue the quest for films of China, however, and the new footage by Gillhausen was discovered.

Three of the year-end programs also will be heard on CBS radio. The programs and the times are "Big News of '58," Sunday at 3:05 p.m., "Years of Crisis" next Monday at 8 p.m., and "Where We Stand" a week from Sunday at 9:05 p.m.

Chiang May Shun Third Term Race

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek hinted today he may not seek a third term as president of Nationalist China in 1960.

The 72-year-old generalissimo said he opposes proposals for amending the constitution, which some consider necessary for him to run again.

Article 47 of the constitution says: "The term of office of the president and of the vice president shall be six years. They may be elected for a second term."

Some contend this means a second term and no more, but others argue that the number of terms is unlimited. Chiang's second term expires May 19, 1960.

4 Akron Oil Companies Affected by Walkout

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Four oil companies are now involved in a strike by truck drivers of Teamsters Local 348. The union, seeking higher wage rates, Tuesday struck Socony-Mobil Oil Co. Shell, Pure and Sinclair Oil companies have also been hit by the strike, which has cut off supplies to gasoline stations serviced by the companies.

WHAT TO GIVE?—The Houston, Tex., Humane Society Animal League suggests something like this for the Christmas stocking. These pups, and others, need homes, says the society.

Municipal Court Jurisdiction Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common pleas courts alone have jurisdiction in cases of domestic relations, divorce and support of delinquent children, said a ruling by the state supreme court.

While it is true that municipal courts are courts of record, Saxbe said, Ohio law ascribes jurisdiction only to common pleas courts.

Saxbe's opinion was requested by the city prosecutor of Ashtabula.

Convict Loses Civil Suit Too

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Youngstown man serving 6 to 85 years in Ohio Penitentiary for attacking a Parma Heights housewife now owes his victim and her husband $115,000 in damages.

Donald L. Rivers was sued for $100,000 by the woman. Her husband filed suit for $15,000. Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Monday approved default judgments in both suits.

Rivers did not appear and was not represented by counsel.

Live by the Spirit of Santa

Man, if he so will, can put his mind and heart in tune with the spirit of Christmas soon to come again to remind him of the birth of the Christ and bring a revival of the hope for good will among all mankind. It will not come through undue generosity of giving, or those outward displays which too often discredit the real meaning of the day. These are only symbols which man has attached to the anniversary of Christmas must be enthroned in the heart of man, a personal realization which he alone can know and enjoy. A certain humbleness which brings with it the hope that in this way man has taken the true attitude for his own spiritual salvation. With this meekness must come love for his fellowman, a determination to live helpfully — to search for and eliminate dross in his life, and place love and kindness in its stead. To whatever extent man can live by the spirit of Christmas will his life be a benediction and a thing of beauty.

Boy Scouts Make a Shift

The project method has long made the 4-H program a huge success among rural teenagers, kept them out of trouble, and pleased their elders no end. Now something of the same sort is to be established for city teenage boys. This is the revamped Explorer program of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Boy Scouts hired a research institute to find out what boys of the 15 to 18 age bracket really wanted. Out of the findings of the survey, leaders of this national organization devised a program whereby the boys form a club and decide on a major project — such as aviation, or hifi, or hot-rodding, or what-have-you.

This will replace the present Explorer program, which was largely an extension of the Boy Scout program for younger boys, with advancement badges and a more or less "handed down" program for the lads.

Keeping youths busy at projects and programs that they themselves choose because of interest has been the key to 4-H success. The Boy Scouts are now inaugurating a similar program to tackle head-on the urban youngster's boredom, restlessness, lack of direction, and yet longing for something worthwhile to do.

Best Christmas Gift: a Book

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—To those who have everything—or those who have nothing—there is no better present than a book.

There is nothing like a book to help a man escape from the poverty of wealth, or to show him, if poor, a vista to the kind of riches Midas never knew.

And for the last-minute Christmas shopper, seeking the last-minute gift for the overlooked friend, there is no better bargain than a book. Good wine warms for an hour; good books warm for a lifetime; both the heart that sends, the mind that receives.

But there is an art in giving books—in selecting just the right volume for the right person at the right time.

All in fun, we present again our annual mythical Christmas list of book gifts for people we all know:

"The Affluent Society"—Anybody you owe money to.
"All That is Mortal"—The 1958 Republican National Committee.
"Aku-Aku"—Anybody you know in Walla Walla.
"Let No Man Write My Epitaph"—Adlai Stevenson.
"On My Own"—Gov. Averell Harriman.
"The Other Side of the Coin"—Nelson A. Rockefeller.
"Master of Deceit"—The people who try to keep up with the Joneses.
"The Mountain Is Young"—Bernard Baruch.
"The Prospects Are Pleasant"—Any Democratic presidential aspirant.
"The Rainbow Comes and Goes"—Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"A Friend in Power"—Bernard Goldfine.
"Exile and the Kingdom"—Sherman Adams.
"A Mixture of Frailties"—James R. Hoffa.
"The Land God Gave to Cain"—Your favorite suburbanite.
"Ask Me No More"—James C. Hagerly.
"Give Me the World"—Gamel Abdel Nasser.
"How to do Nothing with Nobody All Alone By Yourself"—Harold Stassen.
"The Last Angry Man"—Your boss.
"The Shook-up Generation"—Any guy who ran a TV quiz show in 1958.
"The Best of Everything"—To your favorite wife.

Power for Good Won't Die

By George Sokolsky

Each year we sing "Peace on earth..." but there is no peace. This we have become accustomed to as we have become accustomed to so much that is evil in the world.

We labor and much of the richness of our labor goes into the cost of preparing not to fight or preparing to fight whichever it may turn out to be.

Still we hope for peace, but what we really seek are little compromises, peace that man can make around tables, little peace, little contracts, a detail here or there, something that can be agreed upon.

Is there not something that all nations can agree upon and that they might write on stone to last forever? Apparently not! Apparently we are not yet sufficiently civilized.

We say that we have attained such marvels as man never heard of before. We have sailed beneath the North Pole in peace and safety. We have tracked the vastness of the South Pole. We are shooting missiles at the moon and, who knows, before long someone will be in one of those missiles to report on the moon.

We know so much that our heads are filled with wonders and it is no longer easy just to get an education in the simple cultures of man. We have moved beyond the cultures of man to the excesses of man's mental capacity which is apparently limitless.

Do you recall that back in 1917, the United States, a simple nation of comparatively happy people, went to war to make the world safe for democracy? It was the Kaiser that we objected to, a quiet sort of fellow who liked to dress up like a character in "The Merry Widow." We made quite a fuss about him and his sons, remnants of medievalism who were much the same as the rest of us. But our bands played "Over There" and their bands played "Deutschland Über Alles" and we slaughtered each other.

Out of that war rose two great new forces. Both emerged from the lower depths of humanity—the weak, the sordid, the depraved. I personally saw one of these emerge, Bolshevism in Russia, a monstrous concept of man, in its origins even more terrifying than what it has become. The other was Nazism with its prophet, Adolf Hitler.

How often in my youth did I meet Lenin and Trotsky and Hitler and Goebbels—all the worn and abused personalities of the early 20th Century who could not live in the world because they had to live alone out of it. It seemed a period for such people.

I recall being in Stockholm in Sweden in 1917 and it would seem that all those who found life unbearable were in that city in that year and among them was Comrade Howe, a delightful human being from St. Louis who inherited a bridge and a million dollars but decided that that was evil, so he wore striped shoes, no socks, the striped trousers of a Prince Albert coat and a kind of flat straw hat called a floater. He lived on hand-outs and his idea was that as a bum he would live as Jesus lived, although he did not know how Jesus lived or why.

Anyway, it was such a period and I cite one lovable example of a world which was tending to its affairs and paying no attention to the queer ones who were moving among the people. And the queer ones took over. They were hungry and courageous and had nothing to lose and so they took over in whatever country they could. And soon the queer ones were great ones and the queer ones took and they tried to smash our world.

Curiously what resisted were not so much armies and air forces, but a power beyond man himself, a faith in something called a Judaic-Christian culture that had for about 5,000 years built a way of life in the world that, while not perfect, is based on good. This power set up a resistance that the queer ones do not know how to meet. They threaten but they do not destroy.

The World Today

By James Marlow

Why Santa Claus Keeps His Trap Shut
At Christmas the one who's the shrewdest galoot
Is the elderly gent in the red flannel suit.
Nobody knows what he thinks, where he stands.
He's a good politician. He merely shanks hands.
It's lucky for him, this being so quiet.
If he opened his trap, he'd be starting a riot.
He has a white beard, and some deer and a sled
And he scampers around while the kids are in bed.
His mission in life lies in giving for free
The things people want, without charging a fee.
He comes out of nowhere, he's gone in a flash.
Not a peep about politics, sin, sex or cash.
Right now if the voters could choose them a man
They liked above any, they'd vote for "Old San."
It's a wonder they would, since, as it was noted,
He's never said anything, never been quoted.
But even his silence is hardly enough.
To save him completely from any rebuff.
Since he isn't pro-Western, pro-neutral, pro-Red
He's suspected of having a hole in his head.
Some people regard him as just a bit funny
If only because he's not itching for money.
The fact that he's jolly and glad only serves
To irritate some people's sensitive nerves.
Some people, the prudens, don't approve of his giving.
They'd like to know more: how he earns his own living.
There's snoopin' of course, in the man's private life;
He's always alone; what about his poor wife?
But all this is small stuff, and hardly worth mention
Compared with events if he turned his attention
To politics, labor and foreign affairs.
Then nothing would save him, not even white hairs.
One side or the other would question him fast
On the facts of his life, both the present and past:
To hand out these gifts must mean money to burn.
What we'd like to know: did he file a return?
No man could produce all these toys by himself,
These millions of toys, and with more on the shelf.
So what of the workers he had to engage?
How much does he pay them?
The minimum wage?
If that's all he pays, he's a fraud and a cheat.
This is the guy who pretends to be sweet.
Let's ask him: just how did he cross the frontier?

Was his passport in order? Are these his own deer?
And look at his get-up. It makes a man think:
Why 'all the red clothes if he isn't a pink?

Let's return him at once to the place he came from.
Best thing we can do is get rid of this bum.

Don't Stuff Turkey Early

By Herman N. Sunderson, M.D.
Christmas is a gay time for the youngsters, Mom and Pop—in fact for just about everybody but the poor turkey. The gobblers who missed the Thanksgiving ax are apt to wind up on the dinner table tomorrow.

With all the excitement of wrapping packages, buying last-minute gifts and preparing the big dinner, you might become a little careless about the food.

So let me issue a brief, but timely word of caution along with my wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Turkeys are a very perishable type of food. They should be kept either very cold or very hot.

I don't want to come into your kitchen and tell you how to do things, but I advise against stuffing the bird until immediately before roasting. The cold air of the refrigerator, you see, will not penetrate a stuffed bird quickly enough to insure that there will be no spoilage of the dressing.

However, you can make the dressing a day in advance and store it separately in the refrigerator without any danger.

When roasting a turkey, the safest procedure probably is to use a meat thermometer with the bulb inserted into the center of the thigh.

The roasting should continue at a temperature of 250 degrees until the thermometer shows an internal temperature of 165 degrees. Then you know it is safe.

I strongly urge that you keep the children out of the kitchen as much as possible while you prepare the Christmas dinner. For your own safety, be careful with knives and other sharp utensils. And when cutting anything, be sure to make all cutting strokes away from your body.

Incidentally, if fat should catch fire in a pan or in the oven, sprinkle some baking soda on the flames. Not only will this put out the fire, but it won't spoil the meal. The baking soda can be washed off cooked meats without leaving a taste.

Now I realize that tonight is Christmas Eve. That means excitement and plenty of it. But try to get to bed fairly early. You will need ample rest to be properly prepared for tomorrow's big day.

And again, a happy and healthy Christmas to all of you!

Cigarette Fires Boy Snowman's Suit

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A teen-age boy's snowman costume caught fire Monday when he lit a cigarette. He ran screaming through a clothing store and set fire to the building.

The boy was David Baist, 17, of Wilmington, hired by the store to entertain.

While a phonograph played "Frosty the Snowman," the costumed youngster danced on the sidewalk outside the store.

He lit the cigarette during a break in his routine. As he rushed through the block-long store his burning costume set little fires in the piles of clothing on display.

It was believed to be the first such international declaration in Latin America.

President Francois Duvalier of Haiti met Monday on the Haitian-Dominican frontier with Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

The World Today

By James Marlow

Why Santa Claus Keeps His Trap Shut
At Christmas the one who's the shrewdest galoot is the elderly gent in the red flannel suit. Nobody knows what he thinks, where he stands. He's a good politician. He merely shanks hands. It's lucky for him, this being so quiet. If he opened his trap, he'd be starting a riot. He has a white beard, and some deer and a sled. And he scampers around while the kids are in bed. His mission in life lies in giving for free. The things people want, without charging a fee. He comes out of nowhere, he's gone in a flash. Not a peep about politics, sin, sex or cash. Right now if the voters could choose them a man. They liked above any, they'd vote for "Old San." It's a wonder they would, since, as it was noted, He's never said anything, never been quoted. But even his silence is hardly enough. To save him completely from any rebuff. Since he isn't pro-Western, pro-neutral, pro-Red. He's suspected of having a hole in his head. Some people regard him as just a bit funny. If only because he's not itching for money. The fact that he's jolly and glad only serves To irritate some people's sensitive nerves. Some people, the prudens, don't approve of his giving. They'd like to know more: how he earns his own living. There's snooping, of course, in the man's private life; He's always alone; what about his poor wife? But all this is small stuff, and hardly worth mention. Compared with events if he turned his attention To politics, labor and foreign affairs. Then nothing would save him, not even white hairs. One side or the other would question him fast. On the facts of his life, both the present and past: To hand out these gifts must mean money to burn. What we'd like to know: did he file a return? No man could produce all these toys by himself. These millions of toys, and with more on the shelf. So what of the workers he had to engage? How much does he pay them? The minimum wage? If that's all he pays, he's a fraud and a cheat. This is the guy who pretends to be sweet. Let's ask him: just how did he cross the frontier?

Was his passport in order? Are these his own deer? And look at his get-up. It makes a man think: Why 'all the red clothes if he isn't a pink? Let's return him at once to the place he came from. Best thing we can do is get rid of this bum.

Don't Stuff Turkey Early

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Christmas is a gay time for the youngsters, Mom and Pop—in fact for just about everybody but the poor turkey. The gobblers who missed the Thanksgiving ax are apt to wind up on the dinner table tomorrow.

With all the excitement of wrapping packages, buying last-minute gifts and preparing the big dinner, you might become a little careless about the food.

So let me issue a brief, but timely word of caution along with my wishes for a Merry Christmas. Turkeys are a very perishable type of food. They should be kept either very cold or very hot.

I don't want to come into your kitchen and tell you how to do things, but I advise against stuffing the bird until immediately before roasting. The cold air of the refrigerator, you see, will not penetrate a stuffed bird quickly enough to insure that there will be no spoilage of the dressing.

However, you can make the dressing a day in advance and store it separately in the refrigerator without any danger.

When roasting a turkey, the safest procedure probably is to use a meat thermometer with the bulb inserted into the center of the dressing.

The roasting should continue at a temperature of 250 degrees until the thermometer shows an internal temperature of 165 degrees. Then you know it is safe.

I strongly urge that you keep the children out of the kitchen as much as possible while you prepare the Christmas dinner. For your own safety, be careful with knives and other sharp utensils. And when cutting anything, be sure to make all cutting strokes away from your body.

Incidentally, if fat should catch fire in a pan or in the oven, sprinkle some baking soda on the flames. Not only will this put out the fire, but it won't spoil the meal. The baking soda can be washed off cooked meats without leaving a taste.

Now I realize that tonight is Christmas Eve. That means excitement and plenty of it. But try to get to bed fairly early. You will need ample rest to be properly prepared for tomorrow's big day.

And again, a happy and healthy Christmas to all of you!

Answer: There is usually no direct connection between gallbladder disease and vaginal discharge.

Cigarette Fires Boy Snowman's Suit

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A teen-age boy's snowman costume caught fire Monday when he lit a cigarette. He ran screaming through a clothing store and set fire to the building.

The boy was David Baist, 17, of Wilmington, hired by the store to entertain.

While a phonograph played "Frosty the Snowman," the costumed youngster danced on the sidewalk outside the store.

He lit the cigarette during a break in his routine. As he rushed through the block-long store his burning costume set little fires in the piles of clothing on display.

Turkey Dinner Enjoyed by Ladies Aid

The December meeting of the Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Society was held recently with 35 members and guests enjoying the turkey dinner and gift exchange. The meeting was held in the Ashville EUB Church basement since the parish house could not be properly heated due to the cold weather.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Eliza Brooks was in charge of the business meeting and the devotional period. Mrs. Brooks included scripture and a reading entitled "Are You Ready For Christmas?"

Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer. The society devoted to make a donation of $25.00 to the Otterbein Home. Also, a cash donation was given to the Rev. Carl Groff and family as a Christmas gift from the society and the church.

Mrs. Charles Young thanked the society and members for flowers and cards sent to her during her recent illness.

Mrs. Brooks thanked the Ashville Church for use of their basement for the meeting.

A trip, to be sponsored by the society in the spring, was discussed.

The group sang "O, Come All Ye Faithful" and Mrs. Brooks presented a reading entitled "Amos and Andy Explain A Prayer."

The exchange of gifts followed. The January meeting of the society will be omitted. The next regular meeting of the society will be held in the parish house at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, February 12th, with Mrs. George Isham, Mrs. Jack Philo, Mrs. Rex Hall, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Young as hostesses.

Personals

Q. "What type of weight-reduction diet is least harmful?"
A. Most authorities say that a diet for reducing should provide all essential food elements but be low in calories. The most reasonable diet is one that supplies various food factors in normal proportions and simply limits the total quantity.

Q. "What is the best home remedy for warts? Is there any medicine to take internally for removal of warts?"—A. N.Y. reader.

A. You should not attempt removal of warts, moles, or other skin blemishes by do-it-yourself methods. Skin specialists generally agree that internal remedies for removal of warts are about as effective as Huck Finn's spunk water.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Dr. J. D. A short business meeting was held. The members voted to fix a basket for a needy family for New Years. Mrs. Richard Moon and Mrs. Irene Jenkins are co-chairmen of the committee. Donations can be left at the bus station by December 29th.

Also the group voted to donate to the TB Society.

Miss Annette Merriman was elected delegate to attend the January 14 meeting of the Pickaway County Women's Assn. Club. Mrs. Mary Hedges will be the delegate for the National Traffic Safety meeting.

The next meeting will be held January 26 in the Legion Home.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Brown, Gahanna, announce the engagement of their daughter, Monna Marie to Pvt. Frank William Holter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Holter, also of Gahanna.

Pvt. Holter will be stationed in Alabama to attend guided missile school.

Miss Brown is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Manson, Route 4.

Carry-In Meal Enjoyed by Garden Club

Mr. and Mrs. William Cook, Park Place, were hosts to the Circleville Garden Club for the annual family Christmas carry-in supper. Twenty-one members, one new member, Mrs. Guy Heffner and ten guests were present.

Mrs. Reber Bell was in charge of the program. She read an original poem entitled "Christmas Time," and several other Christmas compositions.

The club voted to donate money to the Home and Hospital for Christmas hams, and to donate money to the Christmas Fund for Street Decorations.

Delegates to the 150th Anniversary Sesquicentennial meeting are Bill Cook, Mrs. Orin King, Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, Mrs. Donald Watt. Bill Cook was also appointed delegate to the Safety Council meeting to be held January 21st.

Mrs. Reber Bell and Mrs. Donald Watt were awarded prizes for their entries in the class "Best Decorated Christmas Package".

A gift exchange followed the program.

Social Hour Club To Meet Friday

The Five Points Methodist Social Hour Club will be held at 7 p. m. Friday in the Methodist Church basement. A covered dish supper will precede the meeting.

Mystery Sisters will be revealed and all sisters are requested to send their gifts if they cannot be present. The children will enjoy a gift exchange.

June and Fred MacMurray say:
"Make this a White Christmas with a new GAS Washer-Dryer"

One combination unit. Just one loading and one dial setting for washing-drying cycle. And clothes dry for only a penny's worth of Gas. Everything comes out so soft, fluffy and sweet smelling. Just think of all the time and work a GAS Dryer saves: no lines to string, no clothespins, no heavy baskets of wash, no weather worries.

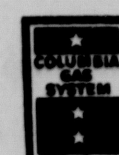

Make this your merriest Christmas ever. Give a time-saving, work-saving GAS Washer-Dryer Combination.

The new GAS Washer-Dryer has all these wonderful features

- One beautiful, modern unit both washes and dries your clothes.
- Easy, simplified dial setting.
- Let the clothes stay inside the unit if you're busy.
- All your clothes are safe because they're washed clean and perfectly dried.

Only GAS dries clothes for a penny-a-load!

Mommies Love To Kiss Good Old St. Nick

It's Occupational Hazard for Man Who Is Pro Santa

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

Mommy's kissing Santa Claus more than ever this year.

And for Lucky S. Squire, a professional Santa Claus with a foot-long growth of real beard, that constitutes an occupational hazard.

"When I go to a party," he confesses, "all the women like to see if it tickles when Mommy kisses Santa Claus. Lipstick smears are tough to get out of my beard, but I always oblige them. Santa has to be jolly and loveable, and besides I never got so many kisses when I was a young fellow without a beard."

In the Santa Claus season, which lasts roughly from Thanksgiving to Christmas Day, Squire attends an average three parties a night, in addition to playing Santa Claus at Gimbel's department store in New York City, posing for magazine advertising, visiting hospitals, appearing on television and participating in publicity stunts.

"ALL THE girls want to dance with Santa Claus, they're cutting in all the time. With my 222 pounds and the fur trimmed costume, I prefer a simple little waltz, but I usually end up doing the cha-cha and the mambo. Santa Claus has got to keep up with the times. It's expected of him."

On the night before Christmas, Santa Squire will drop in on a couple of posh Park Avenue parties, knocking on the door with a bottle of champagne, and then hit the exclusive Harwyn Club around midnight.

For this, he gets from $25 to $50 an hour, and still can't get over it.

"I'm always amazed that I get paid for going to parties, because nobody enjoys them more than I do. Now I limit myself to one drink a party. The pace would be too rough otherwise, and I have my dignity to think of, or Santa's dignity."

Christmas Day, he makes his annual trek through the Bowery, distributing turkey drum sticks and meat balls to the human derelicts in the flop houses and rescue missions.

For this he gets nothing but the inward satisfaction that only a Santa Claus can appreciate. "I give these poor devils that same gloriously happy greeting that I give to my elite customers on Park Ave. They always get a big kick out of joining me in singing."

Ten years ago Squire, who then used the name M. D. Kremer, was working as a messenger on the roof-top of a Miami hotel and his only claim to fame was a luxuriant handlebar mustache, seven inches long and gradually turning a silvery white.

On a vacation he encountered a Manhattan department store executive who persuaded him to grow a beard and apply for the store's Santa Claus job.

"THE BEARD gave me new life," he admits, "so I treat it with great care. I gave up smoking because it tended to stain my mustache."

Jackson Boy Is Killed Accidentally by Rifle

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—A rifle he was carrying accidentally discharged and a bullet in the temple killed Walter Miller Jr., 17, Tuesday. He was hunting at the time near his parents' home here. His father, Walter Miller Sr., is Marietta city engineer.

Fall Pig Crop Ahead of 1957

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1958 fall pig crop at 42,470,000 head, an increase of 17 per cent over 1957.

A survey also indicated that farmers plan to produce 13 per cent more hogs during the 1959 spring season than a year earlier.

This indicated a considerably larger supply of pork during the year ahead. It also may mean lower producer prices for hogs and cheaper retail pork.

How Can Santa Hit Anyone?

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Doubting teen-agers are making it tough for Santa this Yuletide.

High school rowdies shoved around one Santa until he gave up. A 19-year-old 6-foot college student, David Seekings, replaced him and he too, is having his troubles.

"I've been shoved, kicked and had snow and dirt thrown at me," Seekings says. "I can take care of myself, and I feel like doing it. But how can Santa Claus hit anyone?"

No Letdown Seen On Traffic Tickets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In this season of crowded shopping areas and fewer parking places, the Columbus Police Department faces a problem.

It's running short of parking tickets.

An incorrect bid was submitted by a printing firm last month, then withdrawn, and the mix-up has delayed printing more tickets.

But if this tempts any motorists to skip away without putting a coin in the meter, Chief George Scholer had this squelcher: If printed tickets run out, the department will begin mimeographing them.

On the night before Christmas, Santa Squire will drop in on a couple of posh Park Avenue parties, knocking on the door with a bottle of champagne, and then hit the exclusive Harwyn Club around midnight.

Republic Steel Plans Using 2 New Furnaces

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. will put into production in 1959 two electric furnaces added this year. Raymond C. Ginter, Warren district manager, said he expects the production tonnage in the district this year to be slightly ahead of last year's record 1,027,000 tons.

tache. A television show sponsored by an electric shaver firm once offered me $50,000 to shave off my beard, but fortunately the idea was never carried out."

In his role as Santa Claus, Squire has dropped into Pittsburgh twice by helicopter, appeared in a technical movie, been guest of honor at numerous Thanksgiving parades, plugged everything from chocolates to precious jewels in magazine ads, received the keys to dozens of cities, been rescued by police from a teen-age mob bent on determining if his beard were real.

In the off season, when parties and professional dates are scarce, he loses an average 45 pounds but manages to pick up odd jobs posing as an old sea captain, Biblical characters like Moses and Elias, and an occasional Santa Claus assignment for a color ad or at a summer resort that has a children's village.

His main hobby is playing the stock market, "with fast, dashing, daring, courageous trading—the only way to get any fun out of it."

Squire spends $100 a year on financial bulletins and market reports in order to play his stocks on the basis of the best professional advice.

"After all," he admits, "it's me that's playing Santa Claus, not Walt Street, so I have to meet them on their own terms."

Hot Lockland Wayne Cage Team, Coach Now in Limbo

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio's Class A high school basketball teams and coaches have one less worry as they swing into the heavy part of a season that will lead to the state championship. They don't have to be concerned about Lockland Wayne and Joe Martin.

The all-Negro high school in suburban Lockland has passed out of existence and the personable and able Martin has been relegated to teaching grade school physical education classes.

But for 17 years Martin and his basketball teams gave the state's smaller high schools fits.

Twice they won the state championship. They were runner-up once. On another occasion they lost in the first round of the finals. Twice they lost in the dying seconds of a regional final. And year after year they were top contenders.

In fact, in the 17 years Martin put in as coach at Lockland Wayne his teams compiled the amazing record of 394 victories against only 59 defeats.

And this also should be soothing to former rivals—Joe figures he would have been loaded with talent this year if the vagaries of school administration hadn't wiped out the high school. He would have had seven 1957-58 varsity players back along with the reserve team, which lost only two games.

"I had worked out a lot of new-fangled things, too," said Martin. "Naturally I'm disappointed."

As it now stands that potentially fine team is divided between Lockland High School and a new high school in Lincoln Heights, an adjoining suburb.

"I really miss it," said Martin

of his basketball coaching job. "I'd love to stay in the business. I guess I'm like an old race horse around a race track."

"But I watch basketball on television. I go out to watch the pros and the college teams and I keep thinking up ideas. I was hoping something would turn up this year and I hope something will next year."

Looking back over his record and the record of his teams, Martin recalled he had players on all-state teams "just about every year."

"And they are pros of high school basketball," he said.

Martin's reminiscences included one that he believed his very first team at Lockland Wayne—back in 1941—could have won the state championship if the boys hadn't been a little too fancy for their own good.

They had worked out with the old New York Wrens and picked up a lot of that team's fancy ball handling but they did it a little too much.

Martin still calls that team the best ball handling group he ever had.

He calls his 1949 team, which was runner-up to Delphos St. Johns for the state title, the best scoring unit.

The 1952 team, which won the state title, had the "most guts," Martin says.

"They won on the sheer belief in themselves," he adds.

The 1955 team—Another state champion—had everything, says Martin, but was troubled with an early season touch of the "big head."

Joe chuckled a bit as he recalled

ed an early season defeat by Middletown.

"The boys were troubled a little bit with their head sizes," he added, "and lost. Of course I helped them lose. But after the game they cried and said they wouldn't lose another one. They didn't. They won 27 straight."

"That loss to Middletown helped us win the state championship."

Oddly, Martin, with such an amazing coaching record, never played any varsity basketball. He didn't play in high school and he played only as a freshman at Howard University, which he attended two years. He obtained his bachelor's degree at the University of Cincinnati and his masters' degree at Xavier.

Heading toward his grade school physical education class, Martin repeated:

"I sure miss it," he added, "if you hear of anything, let me know."

Kingston Five Drops Contest To Clarksburg

The Kingston Redskins hit a cold night from the floor last night and fell before invading Clarksburg, 70-44, as nothing went right for Gary Walsh's charges.

The Redskins played the taller and more experienced Eagles quintet on fairly even terms the first half, trailing 21-11 at the end of the first canto and 36-24 at intermission time.

A frigid third period, in which Clarksburg stizzled the nets for 20 points to Kingston's seven, put the game on ice with a 56-31 third quarter lead, in favor of the Eagles.

Kingston set out as if to upset the 7-1 Clarksburg squad, building a 3-0 lead before the Eagles tied up the game and then steadily pulled away.

Kingston, which was pointing for a Clarksburg defeat, lost its own ball game with 24 turnovers, four of which came in a row for Clarksburg scorers.

The Redskins connected on 14 of 50 attempts from the field for 23 per cent and hit 16 of 24 free throw tries for 66 per cent. Clarksburg posted 40 per cent from the field with 28 buckets on 70 attempts.

At the foul line, the Eagles scorched the rims for 52 per cent, hitting 14 of 27 offerings. The Redskins' coldest player was its second leading scorer and captain, Bob Williams, who made one of 17 field goal attempts. He finished the evening with three points.

Scoring honors were captured by Clarksburg's Reisinger with 18 points. The Eagles had five men in double figures. They were Ater, 10, Timmons, 12, Bryant, 15, Vollmer, 10 and Reisinger.

Ater and Bryant swept the bankboards in the second half against the smaller Redskins. Kingston used a full court press, a zone and a zone press, all to no avail.

Top man for the Redskins was pilot man Tom Edwards with 12 points. Dave Nozle followed with nine. Forty personal fouls were called during the game, 18 on Clarksburg and 22 against Kingston.

The Eagles started the evening off right with a 44-0 reserve victory. Clarksburg's McDonald led his teammates with 17 points. Cobb was leading scorer for Kingston with 12. Both Redskin teams have 5-4 records.

Centralia Deals Favored Frankfort 63-47 Defeat

Underdog Centralia won its fifth contest last night over invading favorite Frankfort, 63-47, with four men breaking into the double figure scoring column.

The Bulldogs were predicted to lose last night to Frankfort, upset double overtime victors over previously unbeaten Clarksburg, 66-64, last Friday.

It was no contest after the first quarter, when the Bulldogs forged out a 20-6 lead, never to be headed. A workman-like job was done on Frankfort's sensational Carvel Simmons, who was held to 21 points after Friday's 36 against Clarksburg.

Simmons, considered the best of offensive player in Ross County, is practically a one-man team for Frankfort. Centralia's 1-3-1 defense with concentration on Simmons did the trick.

LAST NIGHT was Centralia's Russ Mettler's evening to shine as he drove and set shot for 20 points, hitting nine of 17 field goal attempts for 53 per cent.

The Bulldogs led at halftime, 32-18, as a smaller Centralia unit battled Frankfort to a standstill under the boards. The Bulldogs continued its onslaught in the third period with a 52-31 third quarter lead.

Centralia Coach Dick Smith played several reserves in the final canto as Frankfort tallied 16 points to the Bulldogs' 11. Frankfort used a 2-1-2 and a man-to-man defense until the last quarter when it went into a full court press.

A big factor in the Frankfort loss was its poor 25 per cent field goal average, sending 17 of 67 attempts through the nets. Centralia racked the nets for 29 of 70 attempts for 41 per cent.

A total of 23 personal fouls were called, nine on Frankfort and 14 on Centralia. The Bulldogs pumped in five of nine free throw offerings for 56 per cent.

Frankfort hit 13 of 21 foul shots for 61 per cent. B. Bowdle followed teammate Simmons in the scoring with 15 points on shots from the corner.

CENTRALIA'S Sonny Harrison, with drive-ins and jump shots, and Elwood King, on lay-ups, each ziped the nets for 12 points. Jerry Kutschbach netted 10.

Centralia made it a completely successful evening with a 33-18 reserve victory. Ault and Austin led the Bulldog attack with seven and eight points respectively. Both Centralia teams have 5-4 records.

'B' Slitting, 'D' Shift Win DuPont Tests

"B" Slitting and "D" Shift captured wins Sunday in the local DuPont cage league.

"B" Slitting's win was a close 48-46 decision over the Day team. "D" Shift coasted to a 51-31 outcome over "B" Shift P and C.

Rhoades with 18 and Timmons with 15 sparked the "B" victory. Fenson with 19 was high for the Day cagers.

The winners grabbed an early lead and held on. They led 14-12 at the end of the first quarter, 24-17 at halftime and 35-29 as the third period ended.

WEAVER and McPherson paced "D" Shift with 12 points each. Mancini and Easter collected 10 each. S. Fox with 11 and Payne with 10 were high for the losers.

"D" Shift's verdict was the result of an early lead which held up throughout the contest. A big surge for the winners came in the third quarter when they scored 15 points compared to six for the losers.

Stoutsville Cops Seventh Win, 52-50

Stoutsville came through with another squeaker last night against invading Bremen, 52-50, winning in the last quarter with a 15-7 point surge.

The Indians, winning their sixth straight and seven overall, trailed in each of the first three quarters to a well-balanced Oiler aggregation.

Bremen used a 1-2-2 flatiron defense which it kept tight, bottling up the Stoutsville middle. Its offense was loose in the first half, but the Oilers went into a control type ball game during the latter two quarters.

Stoutsville meanwhile varied its defense, going from a man-to-man, zone, man-to-man press, a 1-2-2 and finally resorting to a man-to-man during the final minutes of the thrilling comeback victory.

THE INDIANS, a never-say-die ball club, hit 17 of 57 tries from the field for 30 per cent and connected on 18 of 35 from the free throw line for 51 per cent.

In fact, the foul line almost cost the Indians its win. Bremen hit 19 of 48 field goal attempts for 40 per cent. From the three throw line, the Oilers swished 12 of 19 offerings for 63 per cent.

Randall Crites, Stoutsville's most consistent scorer, hit for 18 points to take scoring honors for the evening. Crites hit from under the bucket and on shots from the key.

Teammate Bobby Sells tallied 14 points on side jump shots. Bremen's Kunkler took scoring honors for his quintet with 15 points on jump shots from the outside.

Kunkler, Bremen's smallest man, was followed in the scoring by teammate Hummel with 13 points. Bremen jumped to a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 28-26 at halftime.

Stoutsville suffered a scoring lapse in the third period and trailed 43-37 at the third quarter mark. The Indians were down eight points early in the fourth stanza before coming to life.

ALSO THE STOUTSVILLE reserves won a close contest, notching a 29-24 victory. Jim Anderson led the Indians with 17 points. Bremen's Knisley was its top man with 12 points.

Both Stoutsville teams have identical 7-1 records. The Indians, both reserve and varsity, are now in first place in league standings with 4-0 records, tied with Pleasantville and Pickerington.

Minoso, Power Sign with Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outfielder Minnie Minoso and infielder Vic Power have signed 1959 contracts, the Cleveland Indians announced today.

Minoso, who reportedly earned $40,000 last year, batted .302 and drove in 80 runs during the 1958 season. He set a new home-run high for himself with 24 and stole 14 bases.

Power came to the Indians in June from the Kansas City Athletics. In 93 games for Cleveland he hit .317. He had batted .302 for Kansas City in 60 games for a season's average of .312.

Blue-Gray Gridders Set for Practice

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Rough mid-week practice sessions were on tap today for 48 college football stars preparing for Saturday's Blue-Gray classic.

North Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Kentucky's Blanton Collier, head coach for the Rebels, both indicated hardest drills would be held today and Thursday.

The Blue-Gray footballers probably will taper off Friday so that they'll be in prime shape for Saturday's action.

Yankee players also were slated

In the Wrong Den

TUSCON (AP) — Dean Griffing, general manager of a professional Tuscon football team, arose to address a luncheon gathering. "I'm happy to speak to the North Tuscon Lions Club," he started.

A moment of silence, then the members shouted, "Kiwanis, Kiwanis."

Somewhat confused, Griffing went ahead with his talk. When he returned to his office, he learned he not only was at the wrong service club, he went on the wrong day. He was supposed to address the Lions on a Friday. Somehow he spoke to the Kiwanis on Thursday. Griffing says he still doesn't know whether the Kiwanis were to have another speaker—"I just went in and took over."

And this also should be soothing to former rivals—Joe figures he would have been loaded with talent this year if the vagaries of school administration hadn't wiped out the high school. He would have had seven 1957-58 varsity players back along with the reserve team, which lost only two games.

"I had worked out a lot of new-fangled things, too," said Martin. "Naturally I'm disappointed."

As it now stands that potentially fine team is divided between Lockland High School and a new high school in Lincoln Heights, an adjoining suburb.

"I really miss it," said Martin

of his basketball coaching job. "I'd love to stay in the business. I guess I'm like an old race horse around a race track."

"But I watch basketball on television. I go out to watch the pros and the college teams and I keep thinking up ideas. I was hoping something would turn up this year and I hope something will next year."

Looking back over his record and the record of his teams, Martin recalled he had players on all-state teams "just about every year."

"And they are pros of high school basketball," he said.

Martin's reminiscences included one that he believed his very first team at Lockland Wayne—back in 1941—could have won the state championship if the boys hadn't been a little too fancy for their own good.

They had worked out with the old New York Wrens and picked up a lot of that team's fancy ball handling but they did it a little too much.

Martin still calls that team the best ball handling group he ever had.

He calls his 1949 team, which was runner-up to Delphos St. Johns for the state title, the best scoring unit.

The 1952 team, which won the state title, had the "most guts," Martin says.

"They won on the sheer belief in themselves," he adds.

The 1955 team — Another state champion — had everything, says Martin, but was troubled with an early season touch of the "big head."

Joe chuckled a bit as he recalled an early season defeat by Middletown.

"The boys were troubled a little bit with their head sizes," he added, "and lost. Of course I helped them lose. But after the game they cried and said they wouldn't lose another one. They didn't. They won 27 straight."

"That loss to Middletown helped us win the state championship."

Oddly, Martin, with such an amazing coaching record, never played any varsity basketball. He didn't play in high school and he played only as a freshman at Howard University, which he attended two years. He obtained his bachelor's degree at the University of Cincinnati and his master's degree at Xavier.

Heading toward his grade school physical education class, Martin repeated:

"I sure miss it," and he added, "if you hear of anything, let me know."

Kingston Five Drops Contest To Clarksburg

The Kingston Redskins hit a cold night from the floor last night and fell before invading Clarksburg, 70-44, as nothing went right for Gary Walsh's charges.

The Redskins played the taller and more experienced Eagle quintet on fairly even terms in the first half, trailing 21-11 at the end of the first canto and 36-24 at intermission time.

A frigid third period, in which Clarksburg sizzled the nets for 20 points to Kingston's seven, put the game on ice with a 56-31 third quarter lead, in favor of the Eagles.

Kingston set out as if to upset the 7-1 Clarksburg squad, building a 3-0 lead before the Eagles tied the game and then steadily pulled away.

The Redskins connected on 14 of 59 attempts from the field for 23 per cent and hit 16 of 24 free throw tries for 65 per cent. Clarksburg posted 40 per cent from the field with 28 buckets for 70 attempts.

At the foul line, the Eagles scorched the rims for 52 per cent, hitting 14 of 27 offerings. The Redskins' coldest player was its second leading scorer and captain, Bob Williams, who made one of 17 field goal attempts. He finished the evening with three points.

Scoring honors were captured by Clarksburg's Reisinger with 18 points. The Eagles had five men in double figures. They were Ater, 10, Timmons, 12, Bryant, 15, Vollmer, 10 and Reisinger.

Ater and Bryant swept the bank-boards in the second half against the smaller Redskins. Kingston used a full court press, a zone and a zone press, all to no avail.

Top man for the Redskins was pilot man Tom Edwards with 12 points. Dave Nogle followed with nine. Forty personal fouls were called during the game, 18 on Clarksburg and 22 against Kingston.

The Eagles started the evening off right with a 44-40 reserve victory. Clarksburg's McDonald led his teammates with 17 points. Cobb was leading scorer for Kingston with 12. Both Redskin teams have 5-4 records.

Centralia Deals Favored Frankfort 63-47 Defeat

Underdog, Centralia won its fifth contest last night over invading favorite Frankfort, 63-47, with four men breaking into the double figure scoring column.

The Bulldogs were predicted to lose last night to Frankfort, upset double overtime victors over previously unbeaten Clarksburg, 66-64, last Friday.

It was no contest after the first quarter, when the Bulldogs forged out a 20-6 lead, never to be headed. A workman-like job was done on Frankfort's sensational Carvel Simmons, who was held to 21 points after Friday's 36 against Clarksburg.

Simmons, considered the best offensive player in Ross County, is practically a one-man team for Frankfort. Centralia's 1-3-1 defense with concentration on Simmons did the trick.

LAST NIGHT was Centralia's Russ Mettler's evening to shine as he drove and set shot for 20 points, hitting nine of 17 field goal attempts for 53 per cent.

The Bulldogs led at halftime, 32-18, as a smaller Centralia unit battled Frankfort to a standstill under the boards. The Bulldogs continued its onslaught in the third period with a 52-31 third quarter lead.

Centralia Coach Dick Smith played several reserves in the final canto as Frankfort tallied 16 points to the Bulldogs 11. Frankfort used a 2-1-2 and a man-to-man defense until the last quarter when it went into a full court press.

A big factor in the Frankfort loss was its poor 25 per cent field goal average, sending 17 of 67 attempts through the nets. Centralia reached the nets for 29 of 70 attempts for 41 per cent.

A total of 23 personal fouls were called, nine on Frankfort and 14 on Centralia. The Bulldogs pumped in five of nine free throw offerings for 56 per cent.

Frankfort hit 13 of 21 foul shots for 61 per cent. B. Bowdle followed teammate Simmons in the scoring with 15 points on shots from the corner.

CENTRALIA'S Sonny Harrison, with drive-ins and jump shots, and Elwood King, on lay-ups, each zip-ped the nets for 12 points. Jerry

Stoutsville Five Shares Fairfield Cage League Lead

Pleasantville, Pickerington and Stoutsville share first place in the Fairfield County league standings today after victories last night.

Pleasantville defeated Berne Union, 99-70; Pickerington laced Liberty Union, 57-53, and Stoutsville edged Bremen, 52-50.

Pleasantville and Pickerington hold 5-0 slates and Stoutsville, four wins against no losses. Holding a strong fourth position is Thurston and its 6-8 record, Orval Bowman, with a 4-1 record, after scalping Carroll 82-67.

Liberty Union holds down fifth with an even slate, 2-2, and Millersport is in sixth place with a 2-3 record. Seventh position is shared by Carroll and Rushville with identical 1-3 records.

Berne Union is in ninth place with a 1-4 slate. Tenth goes to Amanda, 0-4, and finally Bremen in last place with an 0-5 record.

East Is Favored In Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The East is favored by 6½ points for Saturday's 34th Shrine football game. It's enough to give East Coach Duffy Daugherty the jitters.

This is the third straight year the West has been on the short end of the odds but the Westerners won the past two.

West Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford confided he has an ace in the hole in Leon Burton, a speedster from Arizona State at Tempe. "He is so fast our blockers can't keep up with him," Curtice said. "So I told them to just get out of the way and let Leon run."

Kutschbach netted 10. Centralia made it a completely successful evening with a 33-18 reserve victory. Ault and Austin led the Bulldog attack with seven and eight points respectively. Both Centralia teams have 5-4 records.

'B' Slitting, 'D' Shift Win DuPont Tests

"B" Slitting and "D" Shift captured wins Sunday in the local DuPont cage league.

"B" Slitting's win was a close 48-46 decision over the Day team. "D" Shift coasted to a 51-31 outcome over "B" Shift P and C.

Rhoades with 18 and Timmons with 15 sparked the "B" victory. Eenson with 19 was high for the Day cagers.

The winners grabbed an early lead and held on. They led 14-12 at the end of the first quarter, 24-17 at halftime and 35-29 as the third period ended.

WEAVER and McPherson paced "D" Shift with 12 points each. Mancini and Easter collected 10 each. S. Fox with 11 and Payne with 10 were high for the losers.

"D" Shift's verdict was the result of an early lead which held up throughout the contest. A big surge for the winners came in the third quarter when they scored 15 points compared to six for the losers.

Stoutsville Cops Seventh Win, 52-50

Stoutsville came through with another squeaker last night against invading Bremen, 52-50, winning in the last quarter with a 15-7 point surge.

The Indians, winning their sixth straight and seven overall, trailed in each of the first three quarters to a well-balanced Oiler aggregation.

Bremen used a 1-2-2 flatiron defense which it kept tight, bottling up the Stoutsville middle. Its offense was loose in the first half, but the Oilers went into a control type ball game during the latter two quarters.

Stoutsville meanwhile varied its defense, going from a man-to-man, zone, man-to-man press, a 1-2-2 and finally resorting to a man-to-man during the final minutes of the thrilling comeback victory.

THE INDIANS, a never-say-die ball club, hit 17 of 57 tries from the field for 30 per cent and connected on 18 of 35 from the free throw line for 51 per cent.

In fact, the foul line almost cost the Indians its win. Bremen hit 19 of 48 field goal attempts for 40 per cent. From the three throw line, the Oilers swished 12 of 19 offerings for 57 per cent.

Randall Crites, Stoutsville's most consistent scorer, hit for 18 points to take scoring honors for the evening. Crites hit from under the bucket and on shots from the key.

Teammate Bobby Sells tallied 14 points on side jump shots. Bremen's Kunkler took scoring honors for his quintet with 15 points on jump shots from the outside.

Kunkler, Bremen's smallest man, was followed in the scoring by teammate Hummel with 13 points. Bremen jumped to a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 28-26 at halftime.

Stoutsville suffered a scoring lapse in the third period and trailed 43-37 at the third quarter mark. The Indians were down eight points early in the fourth stanza before coming to life.

THE STOUTVILLE reserves also won a close contest, notching a 29-24 victory. Jim Anderson led the Indians with 17 points. Bremen's Knisley was its top man with 12 points.

Both Stoutsville teams have identical 7-1 records. The Indians, both reserve and varsity, are now in first place in league standings with 4-0 records, tied with Pleasantville and Pickerington.

Minoso, Power Sign with Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outfielder Minnie Minoso and infielder Vic Power have signed 1959 contracts, the Cleveland Indians announced today.

Minoso, who reportedly earned $40,000 last year, batted .302 and drove in 89 runs during the 1958 season. He set a new home-run high for himself with 24 and stole 14 bases.

Power came to the Indians in June from the Kansas City Athletics. In 93 games for Cleveland he hit .317. He had batted .302 for Kansas City in 60 games for a season's average of .312.

Blue-Gray Gridders Set for Practice

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Rough mid-week practice sessions were on tap today for 48 college football stars preparing for Saturday's Blue-Gray classic.

North Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Kentucky's Blanton Collier, head coach for the Rebels, both indicated hardest drills would be held today and Thursday.

The Blue-Gray footballers probably will taper off Friday so that they'll be in prime shape for Saturday's action.

Yankee players also were slated to choose their captains, while Collier said the South's starting offensive and defensive lineups would be decided.

In the Wrong Den

TUSCON — Dean Griffing, general manager of a professional Tuscon football team, arose to address a luncheon gathering. "I'm happy to speak to the North Tuscon Lions Club," he started.

A moment of silence, then the members shouted, "Kiwanis, Kiwanis."

Somewhat confused, Griffing went ahead with his talk. When he returned to his office, he learned he not only was at the wrong service club, he went on the wrong day. He was supposed to address the Lions on a Friday. Somehow he spoke to the Kiwanis on Thursday. Griffing says he still doesn't know whether the Kiwanis were to have another speaker—"I just went in and took over."
